Greetings to our Community!

2020 will be an exciting year for the 2020 Tribal Council. We face a number of pressing issues such as short falls in funding for Aamodt and Waste Water as well as funding needs for our Tewa Center, Gym and the Church.

Two new Council Representatives, who have already served on prior councils, are: M. Wayne Martinez and Terrence K. Garcia. We say good bye to Glenda Fred-Weekee, and Tim Martinez and thank them for their service to the Pueblo.

Because of Feast day and other scheduling concerns, the Council has not yet set committees for this year but this will be addressed very soon.

We welcome all tribal members to come to our Council Working Sessions and our Council Meetings.

Lt. Governor and Council Secretary for 2020

On January 3rd, the 2020 Council elected Mr. Chris Moquino as the Pueblo’s Lt. Governor and Mr. William S. Christian as Council Secretary. We wish them all the best in carrying out their responsibilities for the Pueblo. A contact list for the 2020 Council Representatives is attached.

January 29, 2020

Pueblo de San Ildefonso Day at the Legislature

The Pueblo was honored to have January 29, 2020 designated as Pueblo de San Ildefonso Day at the Legislature. This special event was sponsored by Representative Andrea Romero and Senator Bobby Gonzales. The Pueblo’s leadership was recognized as well as our elders and youth. A delegation from the Pueblo was present for the event. In addition, State Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham took time from her busy schedule to meet with the delegation who shared the Pueblo’s pressing concerns and issues. Governor Lujan Grisham was a gracious host who holds San Ildefonso Pueblo in high regard. We thank everyone who made this event possible.

Pueblo de San Ildefonso's Atomic History Told Through the Manhattan Project Story Map

By Susan Wahl, GIS/GPS Specialist

Did you know......

- there was a train that ran north-south through the San Ildefonso Reservation and that Otowi was a train stop?
- that nuclear physicists from around the world came to the Pueblo, sat beneath the old cottonwood tree in the plaza, and regularly went to Otowi for dinner at Edith Warner’s restaurant?
- that a dance party was held on the Pueblo with military personnel, engineers, and physicists from Los Alamos as invited guests?
- that there was an outdoor theater where many famous plays were performed?

Continue reading to learn more about the new story map created by DECP’s GIS/GPS Specialist, Susan Wahl.

Also be sure to go online and click through the website. Below is the way to access the story map online.

The Manhattan Project story map can be accessed from the San Ildefonso Pueblo Library Resources web page at https://www.sanipueblolibrary.org/grant-resources.

Pueblo de San Ildefonso’s history with the Manhattan Project comes to life in an interactive story map. Titled “Po’ Woh’ Geh’ Owinge’eh and the Manhattan Project”, the story map chronicles the history of the Pueblo’s connection to the Los Alamos component of the Manhattan Project before and after the atomic bomb test at Trinity and subsequent detonations over Japan.

The story map begins with the railroad, nicknamed the “Chili Line”, that connected Antonito, Colorado to Santa Fe, and the train station at Otowi that brought Edith Warner to the Pueblo. It describes the chance encounter she had with the “father of the atomic bomb”, J. Robert Oppenheimer, who later solicited her services to provide a restaurant for “top secret guests” as Los Alamos was transforming into a military base. Otowi became the point where native and international cultures merged. The pinnacle of this cultural union was a dance party hosted by the Pueblo. Since the atomic bomb was no longer a secret by December 1945, photographs of the party were allowed, and several were taken by the Army’s photographer. Manhattan Project scientists can be seen kicking up their heels with the Pueblo residents. As the Cold War ensued and the military base transformed into a civilian research facility, art became a focal point on the Pueblo. The Don Juan Playhouse came into existence and hosted many wonderful performances. The story map has several photographs of the once popular outdoor theater and the productions that delighted theater-goers throughout the region.

A Story Map Walk Through

Click on the tabs to read about the various places and events that contributed to the Pueblo’s atomic history.

1. Each tab in the story map is comprised of two panels.

2. The left panel contains narratives and historic photographs.

Many of the historical photographs in the left panel can be viewed as larger images.

3. Click on a photograph to see an enlarged image.

4. Click on the “X” in the upper-right corner to close the enlarged image and continue viewing the story map.

The map in the right panel will zoom to the location referenced in the tab.

5. The right panel hosts an interactive map showing where events occurred.

6. The interactive map can be zoomed in, zoomed out, or panned.

The census can shape many different aspects of your community. Senior meal sites and in-home services are funded by the census count. We need your help to keep these services for the next decade. The results help determine how more than $675 billion in federal funding is distributed to our state and communities. The Constitution mandates this census: The U.S. has counted its population every 10 years since 1790.
