Introducing John Gonzales
Tribal Services Director

I am honored to be the Pueblo’s new Tribal Services Director. Prior to joining the Administrative team here, I held several executive management positions with Tribes in the Northwest. I was the Queets Village Manager for 6 years with the Quinault Indian Nation located on the Olympic Peninsula in Western Washington state, Executive Director of the Yurok Indian Tribe in Northern California and Executive Director of the Colville Confederated Tribes in Eastern Washington state. Before leaving home I was fortunate to serve as Executive Director of the Eight Northern Indian Pueblos Council and as Governor in 2002 and 2003.

I enjoy hunting, fishing, skiing, all kinds of music especially Hawaiian reggae (I also occasionally listen to KDCE and KBAY), pow-wow dancing and watching the grandkids play sports.

As Tribal Services Director I oversee Facilities, Enrollment, Information Technology, Tax Administration and Tourism. It is my hope to work towards improving services in these areas. I welcome your feedback and invite you to come by the office anytime. Should you need a CIB or Tribal ID card please feel free to come by or call so I can accommodate your request (no appointment necessary).

With Respect,

John Gonzales
Tribal Services Director

Shape our children’s future. Start with the 2020 Census.

Young children experience new adventures each day, and little ones need all of the support they can get during these early years.

Responding to the 2020 Census is an easy, safe, and important way to help provide resources for children and their communities for the next 10 years.

Everyone living in the United States is asked to complete a simple questionnaire every ten years that asks for basic information about the people who live or sleep in their home. Children under the age of five, however, are often missed.

Young children who are missed in the census tend to live with large, extended families or with multiple families living under one roof. When newborn babies and children are not counted, support for programs such as health insurance, hospitals, childcare, food assistance, schools, and early childhood development is impacted.

Responding to the census is easier than ever. You can complete the census questionnaire online, by phone, or by mail.

And remember, just as you protect the children in your care, the U.S. Census Bureau protects your information. The Census Bureau is required by law to protect any personal information collected and keep it strictly confidential. All Census Bureau staff take a lifetime oath to protect your personal information and any violation of this oath comes with a penalty of up to $250,000 and/or up to five years in prison.

Start shaping their future by going to 2020CENSUS.GOV.
If you have children in your home, make sure they are counted in the right place.

Young children experience new adventures each day, and little ones need all of the support they can get during these early years.

Count children in the home where they live and sleep most of the time, even if their parents don’t live there.

If a child’s time is divided between more than one home, count them where they stay most often. If their time is evenly divided, or you don’t know where they stay most often, count them where they are staying on Census Day—April 1, 2020.

If a child’s family (or guardian) is moving during March or April 2020, count them at the address where they are living on April 1, 2020.

Count children in your home if they don’t have a permanent place to live and are staying in your home on April 1, 2020, even if they are only staying with you temporarily.

Count newborn babies at the home where they will live and sleep most of the time, even if they are still in the hospital on April 1, 2020.
