Free COVID-19 Testing Event
Tuesday, June 2, 2020
9:00-11:00am
At Gym
Enter at Juan Martinez's Sr. entrance and continue around ball fields to gym.
The Council is working on the 2020-2021 Budget and on the Covid-19 Grant Budgets.

The Council is developing a methodology to allow tribal members to be in our teleconference meetings and this should be in place this month. Check the Council website to see the announcement and procedures at: http://www.sani-tc.org/

Projects are ongoing. Phase II of the Waste Water Project is still moving forward. We are moving towards a localized system which would cost the Pueblo a lot less in capital costs and in operational costs. Once we have fully committed to the best option, we will have a meeting to inform tribal members (by teleconference or regular meeting).

We remind tribal members to be aware of and participate in an Income Verification survey that is needed because of inaccurate numbers recorded by the 2010 census. This income survey will allow us to apply for USDA funding for our Waste Water project. You should have received a letter from the Governor on this, and a follow-up letter from RCAC on the income verification is expected. Please complete. We need as many people as possible to complete this survey so that we can apply for USDA funds. If you need help completing the survey or unsure of what is being asked, please call the Governor’s office.

We are practicing in social distancing at our legislative office but, it is manned from 8am-Noon. If you do need to contact us, we would prefer phone calls or emails, and lastly come in but stay at a 6 feet distance. We also remind everybody that you should stay in place at your home unless you have a good need for supplies or medical appointments that cannot be put off. Otherwise, practice good health habits.

Good days are ahead! We the Tribal Council are working diligently on revenue and expenditures and working in cooperation with the Governor’s office to ensure services will continue and to bring as much new services to the Pueblo as we can.

If you have concerns, or suggestions, please contact us at the phone number below or wsc.tc@outlook.com.

Thank you, be safe and take care.

June is the beginning of summer and the pollinator garden project at San Ildefonso Pueblo is postponed until we’re ready. But still we know that pollination is happening all around us. Pollinator insects play a critical role in the agricultural world. Without their natural transference of pollen from plant to plant while obtaining nutrients, many types of vegetables and fruit for human consumption would not exist.

More than 80 percent of plants are pollinated by animals, mainly insects. In recent years, there has been a decline in pollinator insects for many reasons, one being the decline or loss of habitat. Many people think only of allergies when they hear the word pollen. But pollination — the transfer of pollen grains to fertilize the seed-producing ovaries of flowers — is an essential part of a healthy ecosystem. Pollinators play a significant role in the production of over 150 food crops in the United States — among them apples, alfalfa, almonds, blueberries, cranberries, kiwis, melons, pears, plums, and squash.

You don’t need a huge garden or large acreage to help out pollinators. Any small planting will do, even a window box of flowers or a planter on the patio. But every bit helps.

10 ways to manage respiratory symptoms at home

If you have fever, cough, or shortness of breath, call your healthcare provider. They may tell you to manage your care from home. Follow these tips:

1. Stay home from work, school, and away from other public places. If you must go out, avoid using any kind of public transportation, ridesharing, or taxis.

2. Monitor your symptoms carefully. If your symptoms get worse, call your healthcare provider immediately.

3. Get rest and stay hydrated.

4. If you have a medical appointment, call the healthcare provider ahead of time and tell them that you have or may have COVID-19.

5. For medical emergencies, call 911 and notify the dispatch personnel that you have or may have COVID-19.

6. Cover your cough and sneezes.

7. Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds or clean your hands with an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol.

8. As much as possible, stay in a specific room and away from other people in your home. Also, you should use a separate bathroom, if available. If you need to be around other people in or outside of the home, wear a facemask.

9. Avoid sharing personal items with other people in your household, like dishes, towels, and bedding.

10. Clean all surfaces that are touched often, like counters, tabletops, and doorknobs. Use household cleaning sprays or wipes according to the label instructions.

Watch for symptoms

Reported illnesses have ranged from mild symptoms to severe illness and death for confirmed coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) cases.

The following symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure

- Fever
- Cough
- Shortness of breath*

Call the New Mexico Department of Health COVID-19 hotline for any questions or concerns you may have while on home quarantine: 1-855-600-3453.

*This is based on what has been seen previously as the incubation period of MERS-CoV viruses.

If you develop emergency warning signs for COVID-19 get medical attention immediately. Emergency warning signs include*:

- Difficulty breathing or shortness of breath
- Persistent pain or pressure in the chest
- New confusion or inability to arouse
- Bluish lips or face

*This list is not all inclusive. Please consult your medical provider for any other symptoms that are severe or concerning.

RESULTS: https://cvresults.nmhealth.org/ You will need your name, date of birth and date of test. If test results are not yet available, the portal will indicate that they are pending. If test results are available, a person will be required to provide an email address and contact information and to create a password to access their information.
