FBI Sees Rise in Fraud Schemes Related to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) Pandemic

Scammers are leveraging the COVID-19 pandemic to steal your money, your personal information, or both. Don’t let them. Protect yourself and do your research before clicking on links purporting to provide information on the virus; donating to a charity online or through social media; contributing to a crowdfunding campaign; purchasing products online; or giving up your personal information in order to receive money or other benefits. The FBI advises you to be on the lookout for the following:

Fake CDC Emails. Watch out for emails claiming to be from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) or other organizations claiming to offer information on the virus. Do not click links or open attachments you do not recognize. Fraudsters can use links in emails to deliver malware to your computer to steal personal information or to lock your computer and demand payment. Be wary of websites and apps claiming to track COVID-19 cases worldwide. Criminals are using malicious websites to infect and lock devices until payment is received.

Phishing Emails. Look out for phishing emails asking you to verify your personal information in order to receive an economic stimulus check from the government. While talk of economic stimulus checks has been in the news cycle, government agencies are not sending unsolicited emails seeking your private information in order to send you money. Phishing emails may also claim to be related to:

- Charitable contributions
- General financial relief
- Airline carrier refunds
- Fake cures and vaccines
- Fake testing kits

If you are looking for accurate and up-to-date information on COVID-19, the CDC has posted extensive guidance and information that is updated frequently. The best sources for authoritative information on COVID-19 are www.cdc.gov and www.coronavirus.gov. You may also consult your primary care physician for guidance.

The FBI is reminding you to always use good cyber hygiene and security measures. By remembering the following tips, you can protect yourself and help stop criminal activity:

- Do not open attachments or click links within emails from senders you don’t recognize.
- Do not provide your username, password, date of birth, social security number, financial data, or other personal information in response to an email or robocall.
- Always verify the web address of legitimate websites and manually type them into your browser.
- Check for misspellings or wrong domains within a link (for example, an address that should end in a “.gov” ends in “.com” instead).

If you believe you are the victim of an Internet scam or cyber crime, or if you want to report suspicious activity, please visit the FBI’s Internet Crime Complaint Center at www.ic3.gov.

COVID-19 Response and what you can expect when you come for a visit

The Santa Fe Service Unit and our clinics at San Felipe, Cochiti, and Santa Clara are now pre-screening ALL patients for symptoms of COVID-19 before they enter any of our clinics.

We are doing this to protect patients who are not sick, to protect our healthcare workers and to prevent the spread of COVID-19 in our communities.

If you have symptoms of COVID-19 or concerns related to COVID-19, please call our dedicated COVID-19 Hotline at (505) 946-9200 from 8:00am-7:30pm, 7 days a week. This is a new phone line that has been created for the purpose of assisting patients who have questions specific to COVID-19.

Please call the COVID-19 Hotline BEFORE you come to the clinic if you are having symptoms of fever, sore throat, chills, cough, or shortness of breath. If we can’t answer immediately, PLEASE leave a voicemail. We will call you back.

If you are having a medical emergency, please call 911.

You can also call the New Mexico Department of Health (NMDOH) COVID-19 Hotline at 1-855-600-3453 and they can answer your questions and arrange for COVID-19 testing, if necessary.

This a rapidly changing situation, and we are working very hard to prevent the spread of COVID-19 in our communities.

PHARMACY REFILLS: If you require a pharmacy refill please follow the normal process and call 24 hours in advance (505) 946-9376. If you are having symptoms of flu-like illness, we will bring your refill to you at your vehicle.

We are committed to serving you and our communities, and to providing you with exceptional medical care and support.
What to do if you are sick with coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19)

If you are sick with COVID-19 or suspect you are infected with the virus that causes COVID-19, follow the steps below to help prevent the disease from spreading to people in your home and community.

Stay home except to get medical care
You should restrict activities outside your home, except for getting medical care. Do not go to work, school, or public areas. Avoid using public transportation, ride-sharing, or taxis.

Separate yourself from other people and animals in your home

People: As much as possible, you should stay in a specific room and away from other people in your home. Also, you should use a separate bathroom, if available.

Animals: Do not handle pets or other animals while sick. See COVID-19 and Animals for more information.

Call ahead before visiting your doctor
If you have a medical appointment, call the healthcare provider and tell them that you have or may have COVID-19. This will help the healthcare provider’s office take steps to keep other people from getting infected or exposed.

Clean your hands often
Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not available, clean your hands with an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol, covering all surfaces of your hands and rubbing them together until they feel dry. Soap and water should be used preferentially if hands are visibly dirty. Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Clean all “high-touch” surfaces every day
High touch surfaces include counters, tabletops, doorknobs, bathroom fixtures, toilets, phones, keyboards, tablets, and bedside tables. Also, clean any surfaces that may have blood, stool, or body fluids on them. Use a household cleaning spray or wipe, according to the label instructions. Labels contain instructions for safe and effective use of the cleaning product including precautions you should take when applying the product, such as wearing gloves and making sure you have good ventilation during use of the product.

Monitor your symptoms
Seek prompt medical attention if your illness is worsening (e.g., difficulty breathing). Before seeking care, call your healthcare provider and tell them that you have, or are being evaluated for, COVID-19. Put on a facemask before you enter the facility. These steps will help the healthcare provider’s office to keep other people in the office or waiting room from getting infected or exposed.

Ask your healthcare provider to call the local or state health department. Persons who are placed under active monitoring or facilitated self-monitoring should follow instructions provided by their local health department or occupational health professionals, as appropriate.

If you have a medical emergency and need to call 911, notify the dispatch personnel that you have, or are being evaluated for COVID-19. If possible, put on a facemask before emergency medical services arrive.

Discontinuing home isolation
Patients with confirmed COVID-19 should remain under home isolation precautions until the risk of secondary transmission to others is thought to be low. The decision to discontinue home isolation precautions should be made on a case-by-case basis, in consultation with healthcare providers and state and local health departments.

Patients with COVID-19 have experienced mild to severe respiratory illness.

- FEVER

  Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure.

Seek medical advice if you develop symptoms, and have been in close contact with a person known to have COVID-19 or if you live in or have recently been in an area with ongoing spread of COVID-19.

What is coronavirus disease 2019?
Coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) is a respiratory illness that can spread from person to person. The virus that causes COVID-19 is a novel coronavirus that was first identified during an investigation into an outbreak in Wuhan, China.

Can I get COVID-19?
Yes. COVID-19 is spreading from person to person in parts of the world. Risk of infection from the virus that causes COVID-19 is higher for people who are close contacts of someone known to have COVID-19, for example healthcare workers, or household members. Other people at higher risk for infection are those who live in or have recently been in an area with ongoing spread of COVID-19.

Learn more about places with ongoing spread at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/about/transmission.html#geographic.
The current list of global locations with cases of COVID-19 is available on CDC’s web page at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov(locations-confirmed-cases.html).

How does COVID-19 spread?
The virus that causes COVID-19 probably emerged from an animal source, but is now spreading from person to person. The virus is thought to spread mainly between people who are in close contact with one another (within about 6 feet) through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. It also may be possible that a person can get COVID-19 by touching a surface or object that has the virus on it and then touching their own mouth, nose, or possibly their eyes, but this is not thought to be the main way the virus spreads. Learn what is known about the spread of newly emerged coronaviruses at https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/about/transmission.html.

What are the symptoms of COVID-19?
Patients with COVID-19 have had mild to severe respiratory illness with symptoms of:

- fever
- cough
- shortness of breath

What are severe complications from this virus?
Some patients have pneumonia in both lungs, multi-organ failure and in some cases death.

People can help protect themselves from respiratory illness with everyday preventive actions.

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. Use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol if soap and water are not available.

If you are sick, to keep from spreading respiratory illness to others, you should

- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

What should I do if I recently traveled from an area with ongoing spread of COVID-19?
If you have traveled from an affected area, there may be restrictions on your movements for up to 2 weeks. If you develop symptoms during that period (fever, cough, trouble breathing), seek medical advice. Call the office of your health care provider before you go, and tell them about your travel and your symptoms. They will give you instructions on how to get care without exposing other people to your illness. While sick, avoid contact with people, don’t go out and delay any travel to reduce the possibility of spreading illness to others.

Is there a vaccine?
There is currently no vaccine to protect against COVID-19. The best way to prevent infection is to take everyday preventive actions, like avoiding close contact with people who are sick and washing your hands often.

Is there a treatment?
There is no specific antiviral treatment for COVID-19. People with COVID-19 can seek medical care to help relieve symptoms.

Environment Department requesting public’s help in preventing clogged sewers and overflows

Increased flushing of wipes, paper towels causes issues in sewer systems and treatment plants

Sewer back-ups and overflows may be on the rise due to an increased use and flushing of sanitary wipes and paper towels.

Clogged sewers cause back-ups and overflows at residences, businesses and wastewater treatment facilities, creating an additional public health risk in the midst of the coronavirus pandemic. These events also threaten the health of the environment and burden our communities’ wastewater utility operators.

Because they don’t break down the way toilet paper does, flushing wipes, paper towels and similar products down toilets can clog your sewer line, costing homeowners and businesses hundreds of dollars to correct. Commonly, the sewer line from the residence or business to the main sewer line is the responsibility of the property owner.

Even wipes labeled “flushable” will often clog pipes and interfere with sewage collection and wastewater treatment systems.

Don’t flush your money down the drain! Help prevent further back-ups and overflows by only flushing toilet paper and using the trashcan for other items.

DO NOT FLUSH:
- Cleaning wipes, even if the package says, “flushable.”
- Baby wipes.
- Paper towels.
- Tissues.

These items should be thrown in the trash.

Parents, guardians, and other care takers,

The administration has heard a number of concerns regarding the safety of kids congregating outside to play in large groups. I am asking that you please speak to teens and children about their role to help limit the spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19) through social distancing and regular hand washing.

Although current data suggests children infected with COVID-19 may in some cases show only mild symptoms, children can still pass this virus onto others who may be at high risk, including Pueblo elders and people with serious medical conditions. I am asking for your help to explain to teens and children that social distancing means:

- To physically stay at least 6 feet away from other people. Viruses spread when someone sneezes or coughs out tiny droplets but these droplets don't usually travel more than 6 feet before falling to the ground.
- Stay home and away from others as much as possible. People who look healthy can still be infected and can spread the virus. That's why it's important to maintain physical distance even from people that don't seem sick.
- Avoid non-essential travel to crowded areas. Don't take teens and children to places like the grocery store if not absolutely necessary. A walk or a hike or riding bikes are great family activities to get out and get active without having close physical contact.
- Limit gatherings to 5 people or less. Meeting in groups does put the entire community at risk. Being away from friends, extended family, and social activities can be hard so consider FaceTime or Skype visits to help stay connected.

The goal of social distancing is to keep fewer people from getting sick at the same time. It is all of our responsibility to help prevent overwhelming our health care systems so that doctors and hospitals are better able to keep up with treating those who need care. I greatly appreciate your efforts to help combat the spread of COVID-19 so that we can keep our Pueblo elders and the entire community safe and healthy.

Sincerely,

Perry M. Martinez

Message from Fr. Herrera

Dear Parish Family,

Archbishop John C. Wester has announced that The Archdiocese of Santa Fe is closing all Church Services and Catholic Schools effective immediately until further notice in order to help prevent the spread of the COVID-19 (Corona Virus) in our community. He has instructed us to cancel all Sunday and Daily Masses. Religious Education is also canceled until further notice. We will provide further guidance as we receive it from the archdiocese with regards to baptisms, funerals, weddings and other Church related events. For now, the Perpetual Adoration Chapel will remain open for those individuals on the schedule or their substitutes only. Please follow CDC guidelines for proper preventive care and hygiene. If you are sick or among the group considered “at risk” we recommend that you stay home. Rest assured that Fr. Lopez and I will be praying for you. We will each offer privately all the Masses in the bulletin so that all the intentions you have requested can be honored. If you have any questions or a Sacramental emergency, please give us a call.

Prayer during the Corona virus threat

The Memorare

Remember, O most gracious Virgin Mary, that never was it known that anyone who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, or sought thine intercession was left unaided.

Inspired by this confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my mother; to thee do I come, before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O Mother of the Word Incarnate, despise not my petitions, but in thy mercy hear and answer me.

An Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that Thou art present in the Blessed Sacrament.

I love Thee above all things, and I desire Thee in my soul.

Since I cannot now receive Thee sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. As though Thou wert already there, I embrace Thee and unite myself wholly to Thee; permit not that I should ever be separated from Thee.

Circular Letter to the Archdiocese of Santa Fe
Concerning Restrictions Due to the Coronavirus Situation

To the People of God:

The Second Vatican Council reiterated the Catholic Church’s age-old understanding that the Eucharistic sacrifice—the Mass—as “source and summit of the Christian life.” We also remember always that Jesus affirmed the two great commandments as loving God with all one’s being, and one’s neighbor as oneself.

We look at the current coronavirus emergency with these principles in mind. But, looking toward the welfare of all, Catholic parishes are asked to immediately suspend public celebration of Masses and other services at this time due to the dangers inherent with the current situation. Catholics are dispensed from the obligation of attending Sunday Mass until this suspension is lifted.

The Archdiocese of Santa Fe therefore asks that its parishes and other entities:

- Suspend public celebrations of Mass. Churches may remain open for individual prayer.
- Individual confessions and consultations need not be suspended.
- Suspend/postpone all other non-essential meetings and group devotions such as communal penitential services, stations of the cross, CCD, youth and adult education, etc.
- Postpone or cancel if possible other rites such as baptisms, quinceañeras, weddings, funerals, etc. If held due to extraordinary circumstances, limit attendance to 20-30 persons and perform the rite without Mass.
- Eucharistic adoration may continue, but limit the number at any one time according to the size of the space utilized.

Other instructions:

- Archbishop Wester dispenses RCIA candidates from the first and second scrutinies. The third scrutiny, which cannot be dispensed, may be accomplished outside of Mass according to the Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults, paras. 34.2 and 331.
- Validations of marriages in preparation for reception into the Church may continue without Mass and with minimal attendance.
- Anointing of the seriously sick and dying may be conducted by priests, who should be assiduous in pre/post hygienic procedures and consider replacing their oil stocks after the anointing.

The decisions leading to these instructions are not made lightly, as we are keenly aware that they will be upsetting to many of the faithful. However, mindful of the responsibility for the care of all souls, this very temporary suspension of public Mass is weighed against the tragic possibility of facilitating an epidemic with its resultant sickness and the possibility of hundreds, if not thousands, of deaths. Therefore, the weight must fall on the obligation of charity for our neighbors’ welfare. We recall how

To the People of God - Page 2
Jesus Himself emphasized necessity over strict enforcement of law: "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath..." (from Mark 2:23-28)

Illnesses in congregations can spread rapidly. One might be sacrificially dismissive with one's own life and health, but we have the duty to safeguard the lives and health of others. Science demonstrates the exponential spread of uncontaminated transmission, so the actions taken today are hoped to contribute to the prevention of that possibility. Commonly-touched items can become catalysts for untold spread of contagion. Also, we cannot but be aware that, because only ordained priests are able to consecrate the Eucharist, their own illnesses/deaths may result in a lengthy dearth of sufficient priests available to serve the faithful.

All this being said, we urge all priests to continue celebrating the incomparable sacrifice and gift of the Mass at a pre-determined time each Sunday and even each day so that the souls in their care may join themselves spiritually to the Mass even in absentia. All are urged to read at least the Mass readings of the day and to meditate on them with their families and friends, praying for a quick end to our current situation and for the welfare of all. Other possible family and personal devotions include:

- Praying the rosary, stations of the cross and other prayers.
- Reviewing daily Mass readings (may be found on the USCCB website).
- Additional scriptural, theological or catechetical reading.
- Televised or streamed Mass.

Wherever you are and whatever you do, please be assiduous in following good hygiene.

We are in a trying time and situation, but our hope is that this action will assist in minimizing its duration. We recommend viewing it as an extended Triduum of sorts—the absence of Eucharistic Communion mirroring the loss felt by the apostles after Jesus’ death...resulting in the great joy of the reunion after the Resurrection. While the current situation is a collective “thorn” for all, we also remember St. Paul: “...to keep me from being too elated by the abundance of revelations, a thorn was given me in the flesh...to keep me from being too elated. Three times I besought the Lord about this, that it should leave me; but he said to me, 'My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness.'... For the sake of Christ, then, I am content with weaknesses, insults, hardships, persecutions, and calamities; for when I am weak, then I am strong. ’” (2 Corinthians 12:7-10)

Please direct questions to the Archdiocesan Communication Director Celine Radigan at 505-831-8180.
